Community News
Student Banking
The CBA is excited to announce they have just launched a brand new advertising campaign, focused on our collective commitment to School Banking.
The campaign illustrates how the School Banking program has helped generations of Australians start a lifelong habit of saving.
Starring Glenn McGrath, Kerri-Anne Kennerley and Dr Chris Brown at their old primary schools, the campaign shows how they each began their savings journey with School Banking. It's a campaign full of genuine nostalgia - and I hope you'll love it as much as we do. If you haven't seen it, check it out now at http://youtu.be/v2oo0oQsHhg
Running across TV, outdoor, digital and social channels, the campaign will remind all Australians of the valuable work you're involved in through the School Banking program.
